PRICE, THREE CENTS

APRIL CUT BRINGS COAL PRICES DOWN

Main Line Dealers Pass on Substantial Reduction to Consumers.

MARKET LOWEST NOW

Customary spring reductions in the prices of anthracite coal went into effect Monday in the Main Line district, bringing to householders for a limited time an opportunity to save as much as $1 a ton on their fuel purchases for next winter.

The saving is being passed on by retailers, who received their cut at the mines effective April 1, in accordance with a custom in vogue for several years. The prices now charged are the lowest they will be this year, and an advance will be made in June and September.

A reason for the annual drop in price given by one dealer here is that the operators are anxious, as warm weather approaches, to book enough orders to keep the mines in operation until cold weather arrives; otherwise miners go without work and, in one mine quoted, $10,000 a week is unprofitably spent pumping air in and water out, even when no coal is being mined.

"Coal dealers cannot close up shop when warm weather comes either," one of them commented this week, "unless the cost of keeping the framework of business together during the dull season is passed on to the consumer in the form of increased coal costs. When the public can be persuaded to stock up as largely as possible for winter's use in summer time, the dealers and operators will save money, and that means lower coal prices to the public."

Again to Play Host to Scout Honor Court

Boy Scout Troop 1, Ardmore, has again won the privilege of entertaining the Main Line Court of Honor, whose April meeting will be held Friday, April 12, in the Ardmore Presbyterian Church, the troop's headquarters. To members of the outfit 28 Merit Badges will be awarded, and two boys will be made Life Scouts.

A total of 75 Merit Badges and three Life ranks is sought by Lower Merion and Narberth scouts at next week's meeting. Other troops seeking awards include Troop 1, Narberth, four badges; Troop 1, Bala, one badge; Troop 2, Cynwyd, 11 Merit Badges and one Life rank; Troop 3, Cynwyd, 8 badges; Merion, 16 badges; Wynnewood, four; Troop 1, Bryn Mawr, one, and Troop 3, Ardmore, two.

Story Hour Tuesday

The third in the series of story hours will be held at the library on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The stories for this afternoon have been adapted to the children in the grades above the fourth and all are invited to attend. Adults who are interested in story telling for themselves or for their children are also invited. The leading story for the afternoon will be "The Knights of the Silver Shield."

"Greatness" Subject of Lecture by Dr. Paul M. Pearson Before Community Club

Dr. Paul M. Pearson, of Swarthmore College, in his lecture recital on Tuesday before the Women's Community Club on "Who Is Great," invited his audience to consider this question with him. "If you look into the history books you will find the great divided into two groups: Presidents and military or navy heroes. America's Hall of Fame thinks differently, however, for of the 65 names chosen there are two rich men, five statesmen, one pioneer, four jurists, two artists, two actors, six teachers, 10 scientists and inventors, six preachers and 15 writers, the basis of selection being the possession of some supreme quality directed to great service toward others. All these great ones lived simply, some meanly and all gave of their best efforts to mankind."

Program Ready For Boy Week, April 27-May 4—Youngsters Busy on Posters and Hobbies

Final plans were made for Boy Week on the Main Line at a meeting of the Main Line Boy Council Tuesday evening.

Participating communities will include Ardmore, Bryn Mawr, Haverford, Wynnewood, Bala-Cynwyd, Merion and Narberth.

Boy Week will be observed beginning Saturday, April 27, and ending Saturday, May 4, and the Main Line Boy Council is especially anxious to secure the active interest and help of all the community residents.

Under the chairmanship of S. E. Downs, superintendent of Lower Merion schools, work on posters is being done by the students. The best poster will be reproduced and used as announcement cards for Boy Week.

In addition a $10 prize will be given for the winning poster; $5 for second, and $2.50 for the third.

Much interest is shown by boys in the hobby contest conducted under the chairmanship of C. B. Pennypacker, 110 Ardmore avenue, Ardmore. The boys in the various communities are hard at work and their hobbies will be exhibited in the local towns just prior to Boy Week. The winners of each local hobby contest will compete at the Lower Merion High School for the final awards for the district.

There will be six prizes at $5 each and eight prizes of $2.50 for the winners.

High School Seniors Complete Plans for Three Plays to Be Given Friday

Tickets for the three senior plays to be presented in the Lower Merion Senior High School auditorium on the evening of Friday, April 12, are now being distributed by the various members of the senior class. James Morgan, chairman of the Finance Committee, is in charge of the distribution of tickets, for which there is said to be a demand greater than the limited capacity of the hall will allow. Those desiring tickets may still secure them from any one of the 240 members of the class.

The cast for "Penny a Flower," by Katherine Kester, consists of Betty Hubbel, Fred Bates, John Fitch, Katherine Morris, Agnes Downs, Elaine Williamson, Eleanor Michaelson, Betty Otto, Dorothy Woodbury and Betty Sellers.

For "The Forfeit," by T. B. Rogers, the principals will be Cecil Lipkin, Dorothy Gimber, Paul Griffith, Lovett Jackson and Helene Coogan.

For "Grandma Pulls the Strings," by Edith B. Delano and David Carb, the cast is Anna Donnelly, Lillian Baker, Mary Philips, Florence Mead, Beatrice Clifford and Francis Green. Miss Sheely, of the faculty, is in charge of the rehearsals.

A business committee consisting of Robert Elmore, manager; James Morgan, minister of finance, and James F. Green, publicity manager, are arranging all the details, and are confident that this program will be even better than that of last year. The price for tickets will remain the same as in previous years, despite the fact that more plays will be presented this time than ever before.

Yoringal, brother of Florinda, Peggy MacGuffin

Court O. K. Sought for S. Ardmore Split

Petitions asking the court to legalize division of the large South Ardmore election district into four separate voting territories are being prepared by Attorney Monroe Anders, counsel for the committee backing the movement, and will be distributed among the voters for signatures within a short time.

Plans for the split-up were laid before Peter C. Hess, township chieftain; Fred C. Peters, assemblyman, and other Lower Merion leaders last Friday by a delegation from the district at a meeting in the Township Building. Those proposing the quadruple division said afterward that although some opposition was voiced concerning certain details of the plan, they felt confident that the district would be left to work out its plan without interference.

"These tentative boundaries for the four proposed new districts were established at a meeting of the South Ardmore leaders and voters Monday night:

1. Section bounded by Lancaster avenue, Cricket avenue, Athens avenue and Linwood avenue.
2. Section between Athens avenue, Cricket avenue, County Line and Linwood road.
3. District between Linwood road, County Line, Lancaster avenue and Remington road.
4. Territory beginning at Remington road and running to City Line between Lancaster avenue and County Line.

Probable candidates for the new posts to be created by the division and the location of three additional polling places were also discussed.

ROTARY CLUB IN ANNUAL MEETING

Local Service Organization
Celebrates Third
Birthday.

ADMIT THREE MEMBERS

Another candle was lighted on the cake of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Monday night at its third anniversary. More than 60 men gathered at the tables for the event.

Guests from other Rotary clubs, officials of the Philadelphia club and visitors from Narberth and Bala-Cynwyd were present. A varied program, featured by short speeches, music, and the welcoming of three new members, was provided by Alvin E. Shull, chairman of the program committee.

The new members admitted are Albert V. Wicks, of the F. A. Bartlett Tree Expert Company, who fills the classification of tree surgeon; Walter B. Richards, of the Richards-Fisher Company, Ford Dealers, and John C. Longstreth, district traffic manager of the Bell Telephone Company.

A "broadcasting orchestra" furnished the music. A group of members, clad in hayseed garments, drew sound from every variety of instrument from a piano to a Jew's-harp. Joseph J. Skelton, with the poetic flowing locks of a Beethoven, wielded the baton. Telegrams were read from all over the United States and from the Byrd Expedition commenting on the program.

A short review of colonial architecture was given by Bedford J. Wooley; Alvin E. Shull explained types of lumber; Dr. William L. Martin talked on health; Dr. E. S. Deubler on scientific diet; W. Russell Green on Rotary development; Ralph S. Dunne on service.

Present from the Philadelphia club were former District Governor Gilbert J. Palen, President George E. Barnes, Past Secretary Frank Honecker, John Gessler, Aubrey C. Delaplaine, Dr. W. A. Pearson, George M. Painter, William Bredlinger. President Harry C. Bare and John Albrecht of the Ardmore club were present.

The president of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Club, Guy Croyle, acted as master of ceremonies, introducing a number of non-member visitors, and calling on the two past presidents for a bow.

Balmy Weather Sticks

"Continued warm and unseasonable" is the climatic description given by Charles Decker, weather observer for the Main Line. Rain fell on three days of last week, he reports, and the temperature ranged from five degrees below normal to 14 degrees above normal. April 1 saw the high mark of the year when the mercury rose to 75.

7 Have Scarlet Fever

Seven new cases of scarlet fever were reported to Marvin F. Reynolds, health officer for Lower Merion township, this week, including four from the Merion-Wynnewood district. One patient lives in Ardmore, one in Bala and the other in West Manayunk. One case of diphtheria was reported in Overbrook. There are nine new cases of whooping cough, five in Bala-Cynwyd and four in the district, South Ardmore to City Line.

Churches Help Solve

Problems of Families

For over 16 years social service work has been carried on by the Main Line Federation of Churches, and during the last year 946 families were under its care for varying periods. Over one-third of these families had serious problems.

"Eighty-one families received financial relief either from the funds of this organization or from outside sources through the efforts of the workers. Many on the verge of financial difficulties came for advice before their situation reached the acute stage needing monetary assistance," according to the annual report.

Found Guilty in Kennel Club Raid

Charles McClellan, Pine street near Fifty-eighth street, Philadelphia, doorkeeper at the dogless and kennelless "Rokeby Kennel Club," Wynnewood, where 35 men and women were arrested in a raid in March, changed his plea to "guilty of furnishing liquor" in Criminal Court at Norristown on Wednesday after the Commonwealth had closed its case. Sentence was deferred.

McClellan was the third of seven defendants to be placed on trial for the sale of liquor and high-powered beer, Richard Hannigan, Market street near Fifty-second, the alleged proprietor, and John Miller, North Delhi street, Philadelphia, having been found guilty in Court on Tuesday. Sentence in their cases also was deferred.

VIOLIN NUMBERS CONCERT FEATURES

Soloists With Orchestra
Tuesday.

At the third concert of the Main Line Orchestra, Adolph Vogel, conductor, Tuesday evening at 8.15 o'clock in the auditorium of the Junior High School, Ardmore, the soloists will be Madge L. Coggeshall and Mary B. Mickle, violinists. They will play two movements of the Bach double violin concerto and a group by Godard for two violins. Mrs. Coggeshall is a resident of Ardmore and Mrs. Mickle lives in Bala. Both play in the first violin section of the orchestra. Miss Mary C. Smith, of Haverford, will be the accompanist for the Godard numbers.

The complete program includes Gluck suite, first two movements of the Bach double violin concerto and the Haydn symphony in D, No. 2, in the first half of the program. In the second half will be the Godard group, namely: Pastorale, Cradle Song and Sadness and the Egmont overture by Beethoven.

The fourth and last concert for this season will be given on Tuesday evening, May 21.

G. O. P. Women Plan Meeting for Wednesday

The Executive Board of the Council of Republican Women of Lower Merion and Narberth met at the home of the President, Mrs. H. Tatnall Brown, Jr., Haverford, on Monday. A meeting and tea for members and guests at the Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd is being planned for early in May.

All interested members of the organization are invited to the next meeting of the Welfare Committee at the township building 11 A. M. Wednesday. The subject for discussion will be "The Work of the County Poor Board."

Meet on Monday

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will meet on Monday, April 9, at 2.30 P. M. at the home of Mrs. W. Y. Bailey, 228 Essex avenue.

Entries Can Still Be Made In Better Homes Contests—Prizes to Be Awarded

Housewives, are you proud of your kitchens and living rooms? If so, do not neglect any longer to send in your name for participation in the living room contest or the kitchen contest of the Better Homes in America Week to be held in the borough the week of April 21 to 27. Victor D. Abel and Clarence T. Woolmington, both of Narbrook Park, are in charge of the living room and kitchen contests respectively.

The Community Building on Windsor avenue will be used for all exhibits during the week with the exception of strictly house furnishings and reconditioned furniture, which will be shown in a house being specially prepared for exhibit during the week. Frank Stiefel will have charge of the arrangement of all exhibits.

DAVIS SELECTED BASEBALL MANAGER

Former First Baseman to Direct Destinies of Local Nine.

HAS ABLE ASSISTANTS

Eugene Davis was elected manager of the Narberth baseball club at its organization meeting on Wednesday night. He succeeds Fred Walzer, whose retirement was announced at the close of last season following 18 years as the club's pilot.

Only one new name appears in the roll of officers, William H. Durbin, as vice president of the club, who succeeds Henry T. Nash, Jr. Other officers were re-elected as follows: E. C. Griswold, president; Charles Harn-deen, secretary and treasurer; William Newborg, property man; Robert Compton, assistant property man; Harry Hollar was re-elected as business manager of the club.

Discussion of whether Narberth should go into the Main Line League again this year as it has heretofore, with the exception of the first half of last season, hinged upon what the league, if there is to be one, will do. Indications point to participation in the league providing Narberth's terms, a home game every Saturday, prove acceptable.

A committee was appointed to get in touch with the league officials and another to look up available material for the team this year. Reports will be made at the club's next meeting on Friday, April 12.

"Gene" Davis, the club's new manager, is well known to most residents of the borough through his connection with Narberth's oldest store. He is a graduate of Central High School, Philadelphia, where he played first base on the baseball team and also participated in football and basketball in 1914, '15 and '16.

Harry Hollar, the business manager of the club, was born and raised in Philadelphia. He played with several of the leading semi-professional teams in the city and was known as a strong hitter. He is a former manager of the Overbrook club, when that team was represented in the Main Line League.

Lunches With Hoover

General W. W. Atterbury, of Radnor, president of the Pennsylvania, had luncheon with President Hoover last Friday at the White House. Following the meeting, General Atterbury expressed the opinion that the business of the country never was in better condition.

To Entertain Mothers' Council

Because the Girls' Glee Club is desirous of entertaining the Mothers' Council and their friends, the regular meeting of the Council will be held Saturday evening, April 13, at 7.30 o'clock in the library of the school. After the business meeting the members will adjourn to the assembly room, where the entertainment will be held, which is scheduled to start at 8.15 o'clock.

Councilman Explains
Rockland Avenue Paving

To the Editor of Our Town:

"Why do the Borough Fathers hate Rockland avenue from Narberth avenue to the railroad?" inquires he who signs himself "Old Fog" in your last issue. Of course, what he means to imply is that the Borough Council has been neglectful or prejudiced so far as that section of street is concerned. That street is suffering from neglect. It has been a sore spot and a disgrace to the borough for years. The large number of people who drive into Narberth from Merion that way are continually asking why it is not improved.

But it is the property owners on that street who are responsible for the condition that exists there. Council has long desired to put a permanent pavement on that street. Council has the money available to pay its share. Council has frequently in the past three years sent blank petitions into that neighborhood, urging that they be signed and returned so that the pavement could be put in. Nothing has come of it and the inference is warranted that the property owners there prefer the bad condition of the street to the relatively small amount of money that it would cost them personally to have it permanently improved.

Approximately four miles of unpaved streets were provided for in the $75,000 street improvement bond issue which was passed by the voters of Narberth in 1924. Under the terms of the enabling ordinance, which made effective the expenditure of that money, it was provided that the borough should pay roughly 70 per cent. of the cost of paving those specified streets, of which Rockland avenue was one, and that the abutting property owners should pay the balance, or about 30 per cent. It is necessary under the statutes, in a situation of this kind, that more than a majority of the abutting property front footage shall be represented by a signed petition in which agreement to pay is an important part.

In 1925 the property owners on the western end of Rockland avenue, from Narberth avenue to Wynnewood road, presented such a petition and that portion of Rockland avenue was promptly paved along with several miles of other streets on which the property owners had similarly petitioned and agreed to pay. There remains as the uncompleted portion of that program Grove place, that section of Rockland avenue which "Old Fog" thinks we hate, and Haverford avenue, from Essex avenue to Conway. Wynnewood court was also in this group until quite recently when the property owners there presented a proper petition as a result of which there is every reason to expect that it will be paved this year.

If the people on Rockland avenue think that by waiting and by creating what amounts to almost a public nuisance they will ultimately get their street paved on easier terms than those which have been granted to hundreds of their fellow taxpayers, I fear they are out of luck. Also, they and not the borough are legally liable in case any damage suits should arise from the condition of the street. If "Old Fog" is a resident on that street and will communicate with me I will be glad to provide him with a properly-drawn petition for circulation among his neighbors and if he secures signatures representing legally four-fifths of the abutting property, I can assure him that council will unanimously and promptly take whatever steps may be necessary to install a permanent pavement.

ROBERT FELLOWS WOOD,
Chairman, Highway and Sewers Committee, Borough Council.
March 29, 1929.

Appreciates Co-operation

To the Editor of "Our Town":

As the local representative of "The Citizens' Good Friday Observance Committee" I desire to express appreciation of the spiritual recognition of the movement by the merchants of Narberth. The majority exhibited the closing cards distributed by the committee and closed their stores during the period from 12 to 3 P. M.

Recognition is due the officers of the Merchants' Association for their co-operation and particularly Mr. Nesper, our postmaster and secretary of the Merchants' Association, for his good work in this connection.

Yours truly,
HENRY P. CARR.

Episcopal Academy can be beaten in baseball, if not in football or basketball. Germantown High demonstrated the truth of that assertion Tuesday when its nine scored a dozen runs in the second inning and won from the churchmen, 19 to 8.

The FIRESIDE

Those who decided to spend Easter week-end at home were wise. For the weatherman was right! Somber, cloudy skies did not seem to mar the enjoyment of a walk on the "Boards," but a walk through our own lanes and woods would have been more enjoyable. Of course, Easter and the shore seem to go together, and for many to spend the week-end otherwise would be breaking custom. Several houseparties were given and we know that Mr. and Mrs. F. F. McAdams, 4 Shirley road, were guests at one in Ocean City, N. J., and so was Miss Cynthia Metzger. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Dunne, also of Shirley road, were also seen along the boardwalk. There were crowds of people along Atlantic City's "great white way," and some of them must have been from this vicinity, but they were evidently hiding while our eagle-eyed reporter was hunting them.

The two dances last week-end occupied the attention of all the younger set returning from colleges. Miss Honora Snyder's dance on Saturday at the Merion Tribute House was attended by over 150. Miss Snyder returned on Tuesday to Holton Arms School, Washington. Then there was the Alpha Gamma Chi sorority dance Monday evening at the Cynwyd Club. As this is one of the popular sororities at Lower Merion, and has been in existence at the high school for a great many years, this was an opportunity for classmates to meet again.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hartel and daughter Helen, of Avon road, are expected home shortly from a trip to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry S. Mellor and family, 116 Chestnut avenue, and Betty MacDermott, of Dudley avenue, motored to Hazleton, and Weatherly, Pa., the early part of the week to bring home Miss Rosalind Mellor, who visited Miss Jane Nichols at Hazleton, over Easter.

Dunstan H. Smith, Jr., who has been in the Pocono Mountains for some time, will be at his home in the Avon Apts. this week-end for a fortnight's visit. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Sr., will give a dinner and bridge in his honor next week.

Bill Banfield, of Narberth, and Jim Rennie, of Haverford, were seen alighting from one of the Pitcairn Airplanes with pleasing grins on their faces.

Harry Berry, a student at Girard College, visited his aunt, Mrs. J. B. Nesper, of Merion avenue, over Easter.

Mrs. Joseph P. White and Miss Muriel White, of Essex avenue, were in Atlantic City last week-end to visit Mr. White, who is engaged in business there.

Miss Ellen Brinton, 123 Merion avenue, spent last week-end in West Chester, Pa.

Mr. W. J. Kolb is moving this week to 410 Haverford avenue from Overbrook. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Mode and family moved this week-end from 506 Baird road, Merion, to their new home in Overbrook Hills.

George B. Maguire, 300 Grayling avenue, left Monday for Temple, a suburb of Reading, Pa., to continue his work as assistant to the inspector of State Highways.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Haws, of Dudley avenue, entertained 10 guests at dinner on Easter Sunday.

Home for the Easter holidays are the Misses Florence Wilson and Dorothy Speck, from West Chester Teachers' College and Hood College, respectively.

Miss Peggy Campbell is recuperating at her home on S. Iona avenue from a minor operation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fleck, of Grayling avenue, will entertain tomorrow evening at bridge. There will be two tables. Mrs. L. Parker Miller gave a luncheon and bridge party yesterday at her home on Dudley avenue. Her guests were Mrs. Harry Fisher, Mrs. Harold Asheworth, Mrs. Paul Barker, Mrs. Harold Lindsay, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. B. F. Taylor and Mrs. Herbert Nagel.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Donohoe, 34 Narbrook Park, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Victoria, born March 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Pearson, Dudley avenue, are entertaining relatives from Bethlehem over the week-end.

Miss Emily Maxwell, Baird and Rockland avenues, is home from Bucknell University for the spring vacation.

Miss Ethel E. Shaw, of Bloomsburg, Pa., is the guest of her brother, Commander Charles H. Shaw, of Avon road.

Mrs. Samuel H. Stringfield, Jr., of Dudley avenue, is spending several days at Atlantic City.

Miss Mary C. Taylor has returned to her home in Chicago after a visit with her sister, Mrs. John W. Joyce, Narbrook Park.

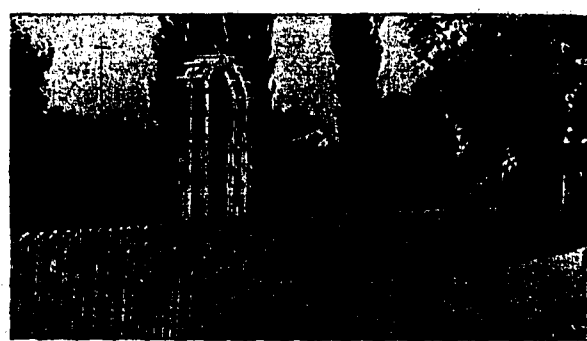

Mrs. William Greenway and her daughter, Alice, of Clifton, N. J., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Dunlop, of 209 Dudley avenue.

Miss Phyllis Johnson, of 80 Merbrook lane, Merion, is giving a party tomorrow at her home.

Miss Florence Cooper, of Philadelphia, and the Rev. Professor J. Gresham Machen, D.D., of Princeton Theological Seminary, were dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. John VanNess last Friday evening.

The Returning Host

That perennial expression, "the first robin," beloved of poets and newspaper reporters, has been heard often during the month just closing. Even last week someone stopped us on the street with the statement, "I saw a robin yesterday."

Of course, most of us who have a few square yards of green around our homes have seen many robins, searching for worms and going through their mating battles. As the month progressed, the amount of song increased.

But the robin, usually selected as the harbinger of spring, is not the only returning migrant to tell Main Line strollers that another summer season is in prospect. The purple grackles, or blackbirds, if you prefer, made their presence known before the robins this year. The returning song sparrows were in full song late last month.

Most of the birds who pick March as their time of return can be seen in small numbers all winter. In sheltered spots on the Main Line, or across the river in New Jersey, one is almost sure of seeing one or more stragglers at any time of the year. Among these hardy ones can be noted the robin, grackle, red-winged blackbird, meadow lark, flicker, song sparrow, mourning dove and bluebird. Other summer sparrows, an occasional phoebe or brown thrasher, even a mockingbird, can be found in winter in selected spots.

All of these stragglers, though, are being joined by great hosts from the South, and sight and song make their presence a conspicuous March and April joy. The killdeer, vulture, kingfisher and cowbird have been with us for many days. Others are to be expected daily, although the real flood-tide is not reached for a month.

Sparrows which you may be quite sure of finding include the vesper, savannah, white-throat, tree, chipping, field, song, swamp and fox. Look also for the cheerful chewink. If you hear a great scratching among the leaves in a nearby wood, you will know that the cause is a white-throat, a fox sparrow or a chewink.

In this column, we hope to keep Main Line readers posted on various features of natural history. Would any of our readers like to co-operate in making the department interesting?

The Tree

By Dr. Walter Steckbeck

Narberth feels justly proud of its fine streets, well paved and kept in very good repair. Unfortunately, the advent of the automobile and its concomitant speed could not have been foreseen by those who laid out our town and so some of our streets are too narrow to meet the needs of the huge volume of modern traffic.

Equally unfortunate that those who planned our town, and the same applies to many other towns and cities, did not provide ample space for shade trees along every street. Some of our streets, notably on the south side have grass strips with splendid planting of trees. Other avenues have no grass plots between pavement and street curb, and hence no trees, unless such may by chance find scant room on the inside of the pavement or on the abutting property. With limited space for trees, or no room at all, it follows that the street plantings are somewhat irregular. But, in spite of certain physical limitations and poor planning, Narberth, as rather an old town, has probably as fine shade trees for variety, size and beauty, as any town in the Philadelphia environs, or even in the State.

What species do we have? How may we recognize them? We shall consider first the maples since they are by far the most numerous. In the identification of trees certain characters must be noted. Most of us recognize trees chiefly by their leaves. Leaf characters, however, do not differentiate the trees during the half of the year just about ended when most of them are without foliage. In most trees, as in a person, there is some trait that marks its individuality and separates it at a glance from all other trees, its mode of branching, bark, buds, flowers, or fruit. It may be some variation in color of foliage as in the copper maple or copper beech.

The characters of the maples that stand out prominently are the oppositely-arranged leaves, the appearance of the flowers before the leaves of the commoner species and the characteristic winged fruits or key fruits developed in pairs. It may be noted here that relatively few of our trees have opposite leaves, especially of the street trees. Horse chestnut, ash and dogwood are other fairly common trees with two leaves at a node instead of one. Naturally the buds of the maples, produced the preceding season and evident during the winter, are opposite.

The silver maple (Acer saccharinum) also called soft maple or white maple is probably used more in planting throughout the United States than any other tree, but is one of the latest desirable of the maples. It is quick-growing, but the wood is brittle and easily broken in wind storms. This maple is rather short-lived. It must be admitted that Narberth has many veterans of this species who in spite of cruel "de-horning" and early decay have survived many years. The silver maple forms a large, round head with an open top. Its leaves are deeply five-lobed, pale green above and almost white beneath. Its flowers are now well past and in less than a month the fruits will be shed. There are several varieties of this species here and there in Narberth. One of these has leaves more deeply cut and branches more drooping than the species.

The red maple (Acer rubrum) also called swamp maple or scarlet maple, is found in considerable numbers in Narberth. For almost three weeks its bright red, or occasionally yellow flowers have added much to the beauty of early spring. It is a desirable species and should be used more than it is. The leaves are smaller than those of the silver, 3-5 lobed, the notches not as deep as in the silver. The leaf stalks are usually red. This species is often confused with the first. The mature leaves begin to color early, assuming brilliant reds and yellows.

The Norway maple (Acer platanoides) is introduced as the common name indicates and is a very useful form for street planting. The abundance of yellow-green blossoms precede the leaves, being in evidence everywhere at the present time. The tree is rather low, with a round, thickly branched head, and five lobed dark-green leaves. When the leaf stalk is broken a milky fluid exudes, a character sometimes used to distinguish this species from the sugar maple. Of the varieties of this species, the one most commonly seen in our town is that with red or copperish foliage in spring,—var. Schwedleri.

The sugar maple (Acer saccharum) is fairly common as a shade tree, with light green leaves, small reddish flowers which come about the same time as those of the Norway. The top is oval-headed and more open than the Norway. The two species are often confused. Look for lighter-green leaves, lighter bark and no "milk" in the leaf stalk of the sugar.

The boxelder or ashleaf maple (Acer negundo) is native to eastern United States and is often found as a street tree although not very desirable. It is the only maple with compound leaves (the leaf divided into leaflets). This character and the light green twigs make identification of this species rather easy.

The striped maple or moosewood (Acer pennsylvanicum) and the mountain maple (Acer spicatum), also the English maple (Acer campestre) are used in some localities as shade trees. Over 100 other species of maple are found in different parts of the world. No mention has been made of the various Japanese and Chinese maples, so varied and so attractive in gardens, for they are too small for street planting.

Radnor High easily won the Suburban B League baseball opener with Haverford High, 13-6, Tuesday at Wayne. Krick, catcher, made four hits and scored two runs for the winners.

"Entailed Hat," Historical Romance, Gift to Library

Mr. C. P. Cook, of Narberth, a descendant of one of the old families of this region and a man keenly interested in all that pertains to its history and development, has recently given to the library a copy of the "Entailed Hat," written by George Alfred Townsend under the name of "Gath." Mr. Townsend is himself a student of the early days of Delaware, Maryland and Pennsylvania, and in this romance has given a vivid picture of what happened in the days when a hat was of so great value that it was bequeathed as a rare jewel might have been.

The owner of the hat, in the days preceding the civil war, grew from the son of a poor forester to be the wealthiest and most powerful man of his native region, and with him always went his choicest possession, the entailed hat.

The story is a very colorful one of the customs of those early days, of Patty Cannon's kidnappers' den, of iron furnaces, of negro superstition, and of the among the leaders of the old Colonial society. It was the discovery of a will in Snow Hill which led the author to search for further material for a book which now is in its fourth printing. The will, copied from a book in the old courthouse of Snow Hill, read, "I give and bequeath to my son, Ralph Milbourne, my best hat, to him and his assignees forever, and no more of my estate." How the possession of this hat affected Mes-

chach Milbourne, the hero of the story, makes a fascinating tale, and any one interested in early history, and especially in early Colonial history, will enjoy this

Lower Merion Nine Opens Season Today

Lower Merion High School opens its 1929 baseball season this afternoon on the high school field at Ardmore against Overbrook High. Keith Parks has drawn the assignment to twirl, and his arm is in first-class shape.

Captain Charlie Haskell will play left field and bat in the cleanup position. Henry Gane is likely to play shortstop as David Taylor is showing up well at first base. Gane is the best all-around player on the team as he fits in well at any position and plays the game right up to the hilt at all times. Dick Gallagher is doing the catching with Al Tate to help him when in difficulties. William Beck or Slim Jackson will cover second and Bob Elmore will be at third base again this year. Bob is lead-off man and very valuable to the team both on defense and offense.

With Haskell in the outfield will be Boutillier and possibly Red Burgess. The latter is showing quite a bit of hitting power and it is likely that Cocklin will have him in the lineup from the first of the season.

Charlie Heckle and Hughie Winn will be ready to help out anywhere on the infield if there is any need for them. From the way the boys have worked out in early training this year the chances are good that the team will have a better year than usual. Coach Cocklin is teaching the boys a lot of sound baseball, and with such even-tempered boys on the squad as Keith Parks, Charlie Haskell and Bobbie Elmore, the results should be excellent.

Five errors tells the story of Villanova's 10 to 8 defeat by Lehigh at Villanova Tuesday. Outside of the second inning when the visitors made five runs, it was a great game.

PROGRESS

Your own progress—for, in building your checking account up to where it will average $100 or over in daily balances, you create a strong financial reserve for yourself, which leaves a margin for unforeseen emergencies, and gain the personal prestige which accompanies a checking account earning its own way.

*An Explanation of 'Average Daily Balance'

An average daily balance of $100 does not mean that you must have $100 in the bank each day. If, for instance, you deposit $225 on the first day of the month and check it out, by reasonable stages, by the end of the month—your account will average $100 in daily balances.

Your community's progress —for the community's strength lies only in the prosperity of each individual.

Sports in Brief

In an eighth inning rally that netted four runs, Episcopal Academy defeated Radnor High's nine at City Line and Berwick avenue in last Thursday's opener.

Jean Shiley, of Haverford, carrying the colors of the Meadowbrook Club, broke all records by girls for the high jump when she cleared the bar at five feet three and one-eighth inches at the women's National A. A. U. championship meet in Botton Garden, Boston, Saturday night. Miss Shiley was the youngest member of America's track squad in the 1928 Olympic Games.

Boy Week Plans

The week officially will open with a big parade on April 27, under the direction of W. B. Richards, 273 Montgomery avenue, Cynwyd.

The Rev. Albert C. Kaninger, of Ardmore, is General Chairman of the activities on Sunday, April 28, which will be devoted to interesting the boy in the church.

On Monday, April 29, various athletic contests will be conducted throughout the communities participating. Harvey Harman, of the Lower Merion Junior High School, of Ardmore, is General Chairman of these contests.

Tuesday, April 30, will be in charge of S. E. Downs, who will encourage the observance of Boy Week in the schools, while on Wednesday, May 1, which has been named Father and Son Day, with the aim of stimulating activities between father and son both in athletics and in the home, is in charge of Charles E. Harnden, of Narberth.

The bugle contest will be supervised by Mr. Fred. Patten, of the Valley Forge Military Academy, and the harmonica contest will be conducted by Eugene Baldwin, of Ardmore.

The finals in the marble contest, under the chairmanship of H. A. Buehler, will be held Thursday, May 2.

Friday afternoon, May 3, will provide an opportunity for the Boy Scouts to fill all the township offices in Lower Merion township and Narberth, as a lesson in citizenship. H. M. Faucett, 1435 Real Estate Trust building, Philadelphia, Pa., is chairman of this day's program.

On the final day, May 4, other athletic contest will be held. The final judging of the hobby contest will be made at Lower Merion High School, Ardmore, and in the evening at the various theaters, awards will be made to the winners of all the events.

Gas House Heating

Will Cost Less

A new rate for gas house heating service was filed Monday before the Public Service Commission at Harrisburg by the Philadelphia Suburban Counties Gas and Electric Company, according to H. R. Sterrett, regional vice president of the company, at Ardmore. The new schedule will become effective September 1.

"The new rate, which is in the nature of a distinct reduction, will give to the Main Line proper and a large section of this division a 75-cent gas for house heating purposes, representing a saving of approximately 20 per cent," declared Mr. Sterrett. "Its main purpose, of course, is to make gas for domestic heating purposes available to the average home, which was not altogether the case under previous rates."

Broke Attendance Records

The beautiful Easter day and its message of hope and cheer will long be remembered by the Presbyterian Church. The floral decorations so artistically arranged by Mrs. J. S. Harris and the unusually fine musical numbers by the augmented chorus in the morning and by the three choruses in evening added much to the attractiveness of the services. The attendance in the morning was the largest in the history of the church, 478 being present.

Rain postponed Villanova's opening baseball game with Lafayette Saturday to June 5 at Easton.

Sign of Best Meats

We Concentrate on MEAT

Half a century ago—before the Age of Specialization had been inaugurated by modern inventions and business methods—the Bradley Market Company decided to specialize in MEATS, leaving the vending of groceries and fruits, butter and eggs to others. As a result this House has built for itself a substantial reputation for the quality of its MEATS.

Because we sell nothing else, our MEATS are known as among the best that Philadelphia affords—and Philadelphia and its suburbs have a reputation for wonderful meals—of which MEATS form the chief dish.
